APPENDIX

Bagnant House, St. Aubin.
28 December 2007.

Dear Connétable,

Thank you so much for your kind invitation to participate in the weekend workshop at the Parish Hall next month. Unfortunately, we shall be out of the island and thus unable to attend. Please accept our apologies: we would very much have liked to come. This subject is dear to us.

One of my favourite rules is, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it". We've lived in St. Aubin for nearly four years – not long, it's true; but there's nothing major we'd like to change. It was beautiful in 1893 and it's beautiful now – that's why people love it so. To vote to do nothing, after mature consideration, is a perfectly acceptable strategy.

Kind regards, Anthony + Gaye Owen. (All best for 2008!)
